Dan Roy is a graduate of the Academy for Dog Trainers. He earned his Certificate in Training and Counseling (CTC), with honors, under the tutelage of world-renowned trainer, Jean Donaldson – author of The Culture Clash

Jean Donaldson said of Dan:

“For me, you epitomize the trainer of the future. You’re smart, mechanically able, spongy, but questioning, and have the teaching chops that – oh! Would we have killed for a generation ago.”

Dan is a Certified Professional Dog Trainer and a member of the Association of Professional Dog Trainers (APDT). Dan promotes a reward-based system of training. His approach to training is dog-friendly, but not overindulgent. “Setting boundaries for our dogs encourages a working relationship with them.” He stays on top of the latest developments in science-based training and client coaching by regularly attending workshops and seminars.

Actively training and competing since 1997, Dan and his Australian Shepherds have earned some of the highest titles in Dog Agility. Out thinking an Aussie is no easy task. It requires boundless energy and an unwavering, upbeat attitude – qualities that come naturally to Dan. In fact, his closest friends suspect that he’s so good at his job because deep down, he’s a herder too.

Nichole Hartmann has been active in Dog Sport for over a decade. She started taking a class at the age of 13 with the family Beagle. She got her first sport dog in 2009, Shelly is a corgi mix and quickly required Nicole to get activated in dog sports. She tried as many dog sports as possible, from bite work, to dock diving to barn hunt, lure coursing, scent work, and earned her CGC, finally settling on agility and sheep herding. In 2011 she bought her first dedicated sport dog Jude a Border Collie. Nichole not only started competing, but she was able to start teaching and even held Dog sport days for pet owners to try agility, sheep herding and straight-line lure coursing.

In 2015 the military moved Nichole and her family to Ohio. There, she volunteered with the local obedience club as much as possible, eventually teaching some classes She and Jude were even able to compete in the Nation’s oldest sheep dog trial, The Bluegrass Sheepdog Trial in Kentucky.

Now back in California, Nichole and Jude have focused on CPE Agility, and are working toward their first C-ATCH. Her new prospect is Cinder, a 2-year-old border collie.

We are happy to have Nichole as our guest instructor.
